

The Armour Steel Advantage

For over 40 years Armour Steel has been getting the job done for builders and contractors, large and small. Our commitment to maintain inventory of structural steel building products, plus our flexibility and quick delivery, have earned us the loyalty of Southern Ontario's top construction professionals.

Armour Steel adheres to a customer-centered business philosophy called One Source. It equips us to satisfy your project's complete needs for:

- Supply of Structural Steel, Tube, Rebar and Mesh
- Structural Steel Fabrication and Customization Services
- Engineered Light Gauge Steel Truss, Wall Panel and Floor Systems
- On-Site Erection Services

One Source

Our commitment to One Source is solid.

Major investments in engineering talent, skilled fabricators, CWB-certified welders, facility reconfiguration and new delivery vehicles are the proof.

These assets, coupled with our excellent supplier relationships and reputation for outstanding service, allow us to meet the full spectrum of steel construction requirements for the designer, developer and general contractor of:

- Large-scale residential projects
- Public & institutional buildings
(schools, libraries, hospitals)
- Light industrial (manufacturing, warehouse & distribution)
- Multi-unit multi-story residential
- Low rise commercial (office centres, retail centres, mixed use)
- Misc. buildings: churches, hotels, long term care centres

Complete Capability

One Source simplifies every aspect of the structural steel portion of the project. How? There's just one supplier to interface with ... one project manager, one schedule, one phone number.

Working with the designated engineer(s), we take complete responsibility for the ordering, quality control, fabrication, delivery and installation. Armour even supplies the miscellaneous items like stairways or railings and we'll handle on-site welding. Why? We want to be a partner on your future projects. We earn that opportunity only if we deliver on the One Source promise today.

A Secure Solution

Security is more than knowing who to call. It's knowing you are getting good value. Armour Steel has been delivering value in steel for over 40 years. Our supplier relationships and insistence on maintaining inventory levels means our pricing is competitive. Our commitment to responsive service means there won't be late steel deliveries holding up other aspects of your project. We help manage your risk; we are certified, bonded and insured properly to perform on-site services.

An Accountable Partner

Let's be realistic – plans and site conditions change. Problems arise. When that happens, you don't need excuses – you need help fast. One Source means help is just one call away, because at Armour Steel we take our responsibilities and our business relationships seriously. We'll respond quickly and professionally to keep your project on track. That way, we succeed together, which is what the One Source philosophy is really all about.

We Invite You to call us and discuss how the One Source program can bring the Armour Steel Advantage – value and peace of mind – to your next project.
